NEW MISSIONARIES.

Excellent Showing in Appropriations for Foreign Field.

The session of the Woman's Mission Board last night was devoted to interesting addresses from newly appointed missionaries to the foreign field. Miss Mary Pescud, of Raleigh, N. C., was accepted and assigned to work at Juiz di Flora Brazil. She will sail for her future field in August. Miss Mary Richardson, of Missouri, was also accepted and will accompany her sister Miss Helen who has been for some years in the China field but is now at home for a vacation. Miss Ellerding who has been in the work at Rio de Janeiro made an interesting address on that field. The McTyeire school in Shanghai came in for a part of the discussion.

The morning session today was devoted to business the, greater part of the time being occupied with the report of the committee on appropriations to fields and missionaries. The appropriations aggregated the grand total of $98,886.

The report of the committee on missionary candidates reported that several young ladies had been accepted to be sent to the missionary training school and also the acceptance of several to the foreign field so soon as their papers are presented in due form. The rest of the time was occupied with committee reports.

Up to four o'clock the time of the board was occupied with reports. It was expected, however, that the officers for the ensuing year would be elected this afternoon or tonight and that the board would adjourn to meet elsewhere next year.

A NEW CORPORATION.

The Piedmont Realty and Guaranty Company Organized.

Articles of incorporation have been filed in the office of the clerk of the Superior court for the Piedmynt Realty Company. The corporation is composed of J. W. Lindau, R. I. Katz and C. N. McAdoo, and the capital stock is $25,000.

The principal offices of the company will be in Greensboro; but they are to have power to establish and locate branch offices in other places, wherever the best interests of the corporation may be advanced.

In the business of the corporation they will have the rights, powers, and privileges to act as agent for others in the purchase and sale of property of every name, nature and description, to rent and lease property of all kinds, to rent and lease property of all kinds for others, to manage and control property of every kind as agent for others, to act as agent for others in borrowing and lending money and collecting claims for others, to search and make certificates to and for real estate and guarantee the same, etc.

In short, the corporation is to be clothed with full power to do a general business along the lines mentioned above, and shall have power to sue and be sued as a corporation.

The Telegram, with pride, announces the formation of the Piedmont Realty and Guaranty Company. The possibilities of such an organization are great—both as a means of making a nice thing for the members of the corporation and of doing much for the advancement and upbuilding of Greensboro. It is one of the things the Telegram has been advocating.

The officers of the company are as follows: J. W. Lindau, president; R. Katz, vice-president; C. N. McAdoo, secretary and treasurer.

Recruiting Begins.

Col. Burgwyn today received an order from the war department directing him to detail a recruiting party composed of carefnlly selected officers and four enlisted men from each battalion to recruit the same to the strength of 106 enlisted men to each company the names of the officers detailed to be reported and also the sections of the state to which they are sent. The order says that when the regiment leaves for the field the recruiting parties should remain behind and continue recruiting unless the regiment is filled to the maximum.—Col. Olds correspondence.

SPANISH REPORT OF BATTLE

Claim That Americans Were Thrice Repulsed.

REINA MERCEDES WAS SUNK.

American Loss 1,500—Expedition Leaves Tampa Today—Rumors of Cadiz Fleet Appearing.

By Cable THE TELEGRAM.

Madrid, June 8—The Spanish official report of Monday's operations at Santiago de Cuba wae communicated to the press this morning and is as follows: A bloody encounter occurred at Santiago. The American fleet thrice attempted to land marines but the shore batteries successfully repulsed them in each instance with heavy loss to the invaders. It is estimated that 1500 Americans were killed and wounded in the several engagements. The fire of the American ships sank the Reina Mercedes and Lieutenant Acosta was killed. Colonel Alea with his command was between Santiago and Punta Cabrara sustained a severe cross fire between the Americans by sea and the insurgents by land. The American fire passed over the positions occupied by the Spaniards and fell among the insurgents. The Spaniards we were well entrenched in a line between Sibones and Aguadores from and prevented the invaders fromlanding. The Spaniards were unhurt.

REPORT IN MADRID.

Madrid, June 8—It has been learned that five sailors and twenty-nine marines on board the Reina Mercedes during Monday's bombardment at Santiago were killed.

WILD RUMORS AFLOAT.

Port-au-Prince, June 8—Wild and uncredited rumors are afloat here to the effect that the Cadiz squadron composed of eighteen ships has been sighted off Jamaica.

There was further heavy cannonading at Santiago yesterday morning. It is reported that the Americans have captured Aguadores where it is thought the landing in force will be made.

AT THE WAR DEPARTMENT.

Washington, June 8—It is admitted this morning at the war department that the Santiago expedition will sail today and that next week, it is believed, will witness the destruction of Admiral Cervera's fleet, the capture of Santiago de Cuba and the occupation of Porto Rico. President McKinley expects the war to end before the first day of August.

SPANISH DETAILS.

Havana, June 7, (delayed in transmission.) The details from Spanish sources at Santiago concerning Spanish losses in the bombarnment at that place on Monday say the Marine chief who was killed aboard the Reina Mercedes was ex-captain Emilo Acosta Yormann, Ensign Aljandro Molina, of the Reina Mercedes was also killed.

Colonel Ordonez, artilleryman and the inventor of the cannon which bears his name was slightly wounded. Other officers were slightly wounded by projectiles, shells and fragments which were scattered by explosions.

The insurgents today dynamited a passenger train near Canari in the province of Pinar del Rio, overthrowing one coach and derailing the train.

FOREIGN OPINIONS.

Rumors of Unfavorable Reports on Our Army are Unfounded.

Washington, June 7—It was stated at several of the foreign legations and embassies today that there was no warrant for the published reports that the foreign military and naval attaches were making unfavorable reports to their home offices on the American army and navy, particularly the former. It is said these foreign observers know from experience the difficulties attending the equipment of raw levies, and that they give generous recognition to the manner in which 200,000 men have been appointed, armed and equipped. The foreign experts say that more or less confusion is unavoidable in such a gigantic undertaking, and that military science recognizes the confusion as inseparable to the assembling of a large volunteer force.

IN CAMP AT TAMPA.

Mr. Trogdon Writes of What He Saw There.

Tampa, Fla., June 6, '98.

Editor Telegram—I visited the great infantry, calvary and artillery camps here today. Fifty thousand men, cannon, pack mules, horses and great quantities of supplies are going aboard the twenty-nine large transport ships night and day and it is understood that the first expedition from here will sail tomorrow morning. The staff officers' houses were being loaded this afternoon. I saw General Miles, General Joe Wheeler, and General Copinger at the Tampa Bay Hotel this afternoon.

For two days, General Fitzhugh Lee and his staff officers, Robt. E. L. Michie, O. E. Wood, Curtis Guild, Lewis W. Brander, L. M. Mans, (the Cuban,) Fitzhugh Lee, Jr., ann Algernon Saroris (Gen. Grant's grand-son) have taken their meals just across the dining room from me. In full uniform they certainly make a fine appearance.

I visited the First North Carolina regiment this afternoon and met several friends among them Lieut. Col. Cowles, of Wilkesboro, who had charge of the regiment in the absence of Col. Armfield. At dress parade this afternoon Gen. Lee and staff paid the North Carolina regiment his first visit and he was received with a storm of applause. Col. Cowles has been in the regular army for 29 years and knows how to have his men make the best showing possible before General Lee.

I met Col. J. S. Carr at the Windsor Hotel and he said he was going to treat our boys to necessary supplies. It is certainly very praiseworthy in him to do so.

Yours truly,
W. F. Trogdon.

Court Opens Tomorrow.

Superior court was adjourned until tomorrow owing to the illnes of the presiding judge. A telegram was received from Judge Robinson this morning saying that he was sufficiently recovered to be here tomorrow.

Transports for Manila.

Cape Haytien, June 7, (delayed)—According to the latest advices direct from Santiago dated Monday at midnight the bombardment which began at 7:45 yesterday morning continued until 10:30 in the forenoon and was resumed in a short time. At midnight it was believed the Americans had effected a junction with the insurgents near Daquiri east of Aguadores and near the railway which leads to Santiago.

CANNONADING CONTINUES.

Port au Prince, June 8, 10 a. m.—Further cannonading is reported fram Santiago de Cuba. It is also reported that the Americans are in possession of Aguadores, three or four miles to the eastward of the harbor entrance, where troops and artillery will be landed preparatory to taking the defences in the rear. The report has not been confirmed up to this hour.

THREE NEW REGIMENTS.

New York, June 8—Three new regiments have been formed in this city to take the place of those that have been sent to the front. ST. PAUL SAILS.

New York, June 8—The St. Paul sails today to relieve the Harvard. The Yale is performing scouting duty in the West Indies.

SPANISH REPORT DISCREDITED.

Washington, Sune 8—The navy department attaches no credence whatever to the Spanish reports of the killing of Captain Phillips of the battleship Texas because Admiral Sampson has sent in his report stating specifically that no casualties occurred on the American side.

Congress today passed a bill providing for the organization of a hospital corps for the navy.

ANOTHER COLLIER BAGGED.

Key West, June 8—The auxiliary gunboat which arrived today from Cardenas reports all quiet there excep the auxiliary gunboat Leyden is is making things very lively for the Spaniards by blazing away at them whenever she sees any movement among the Spanish gunboats or the shore defences.

The British collier Roath, a sister ship to the Restormel recently captured by the St. Paul, was held up on June 4th by an American gunboat. She did not respond promptly to the blank shot and a solid shot was sent across her bows. Next day she was held up by a second gunboat and obeyed the signal to stop.

It is announced here that the Spanish steamer Bento has run the blockade of Manzanillo and reached Jamaica.

FOR MANILA.

Washington, June 8—The navy department has chartered the steamships Victoria, Olympia, Arizona, Indiana, Morgan and City of Paris to be used as transports for the troops going to Manila.

WAR TIME TEA.

Given This Afternoon by Miss Susie Reece on Greene Street.

One of the most unique, and best named entertainments of the season, will be the "war time tea" given this afternoon from five to six o'clock by Miss Susie Reece at her home on Greene street complimentary to her visiting friend Miss Chisman.

The parlors, halls and dining room are beautifully and elaborately decorated in patriotic colors—red, white and blue. The work of decorating was happily conceived and tastefully executed.

The table will be supplied with modern armament. The equipment will partially consist in cannon mounted in true artillery fashion and cannon balls made of pure, delicious ice cream. The idea of "war time" will be carried out in all the details of the entertainment.

Miss Reece and Miss Chisman will be attired in white with red and blue sufficient to carry out the true American idea of things.

The whole affair is intensely modern and will be pretty and unique.

Hawaiian Annexation.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, June 8—Gen. Grosvenor in the house this afternoon tried to force the Hawaiian annexation resolution ahead of everything. Other republican congressmen opposed it. WEDNESDAY, JUNE 8, 1898.

You can get the telegraphic news twelve hours earlier in THE TELEGRAM than in any paper that gets into Greensboro, and for four dollars a year less.

When the Canadian police pulled Du Bosc and Carranza for slander Spanish honor must have suffered severe spasmodic twinges.

The report that insurance agents are epidemic in camp Dan Russell has no connection whatever with the eagerness of the boys of the second regiment to be sent to Cuba.

The Jacksonville correspondent of the Raleigh Post writes:

Goldsboro has had two more deserters since the 1st of June.

The Salvation Army holds service every night in front of camp.

Poor boys! Deal gently with them.

It was whispered today that Hal Ayer might be a candidate for Congress in this district, and furthermore that if this is done it will be to use him to defeat the candidacy of Otho Wilson.—Raleigh correspondence Charlotte Observer.

Whispered? Ah, no—surely it was sung or at least cooed. A whisper is akin to a sibilant hiss. The advent of Hallelujah could only be fitly hailed in rhymed and rhythmed rejoicings.

There is no reason whatever why an income tax provision should not be placed in the war revenue measure now before congress, but of course republicans would never consent to it. The republican party has sold itself body and soul to that element of our people which an income tax would compel to contribute a fair share toward the support of the government. To expect it to agree to tax incomes is to disregard its past history and to expect it to disregard its present obligations. It expects to tax the incomes in 1900 to keep itself in power and must perforce secure their immunity from taxation now. Patriotism is all very nice but if the republican party has ever forgotten its politics in a burst of patriotism history has failed to record the marvellous incident.

Let Cherryville look to the laurels of its sage. It is not the only focus of political philosophy. There are other centers of thought. Long Leaf is experiencing three thousand intellectual whirls per minute. Bryan Tyson, a seer of armor-piercing vision, shies a universal political platform into the midst of the raging factions. With eager hands we pluck therefrom the followiug slabs of light:

11. That the work of the House and Senate shall be separate. No necessity for bills to be acted on by both houses.

16. That no lawyers shall be elected to State Legislatures nor to Congress for the next 25 years.

19. That all insurance companies, including life, fire, etc., shall be compelled to wind up and go out of business. The evils resulting from said companies far exceeds the benefits derived therefrom.

A postscript can easily be added to this forbidding lightning to strike and fire to burn so soon as the political parties dry their tears of joy and untwine themselves from each others' necks. The whole can be rounded out with the initiative and referendum.

Spencer Blackburn, of Ashe county, is here. He says the republicans in his part of the state are "in great shape". He went on to express his satisfaction at the way in which the democratic State committee turned down the populist proposition. From his point of view it seemed that the democratic party had taken a bad step. But an older and more experienced republican, who heard him, said the democrats had taken precisely the proper course.—Col. Olds' Correspondence.

Age and experience are good: but, prithee Good Sir, speak not of them in the same breath with genius. There were older generals in France than Napoleon when he crossed the Alps and licked the boots off Italy, there were older poets than Shakespeare when he wrote Hamlet, there were older statesmen than Hallelujah Ayer when put democracy in a hole, there are older republicans than Spencer but none with his fine gleams and precious presages. Democracy is doomed.

The views of Senor Moret as given in our despatches of yesterday reveal the true situation in Spain. He was by long odds the ablest man in the former Sagasta cabinet and did all he could to keep Spain from rushing on certain ruin. His advice was despised and he was sacrificed to the clamor of the war party and to the interests of the dynasty and Spain was deprived, in the hour of her sorest need, of the services of her ablest citizen since the death of Canovas. Senor Moret's interview lays bare the whole bitter truth. It can not be charged that he has spoken from anger at being deprived of his place in the cabinet. Spain's policy from the beginning tallies to a nicety with his words. The cabinet is trusting to chance. It is playing a desperate and and a losing game and playing it blindly. The repeated appeals to the powers, the tactics of Cervera, the abandoning of Blanco to his fate, all show that Moret speaks truly. Nothing short of miraculous good fortune can save Spain from complete collapse and a bloody revolution.

WHY THE YALE HAD TO FLEE.

Efforts to Have Her Equipped With a Battery.

Washington, June 7—Exciting experiences have been undergone by the big auxiliary ship Yale, formerly the Paris, which arrived at Newport News yesterday for coal and water. Having no battery but two six-pounders, the Yale is in no condition to fight, and her officers tell of the chase made by the Spanish cruiser Alfonso XII while the Yale was on her way north, and the humiliating pasition for American vessel was put in by having to run. Had she the battery of the St. Paul the Spanish vessel would have soon been at the bottom or in possession of a prize crew. Her officers request that she be provided with a battery before being sent south again, and this will probably be done.

Back from Liberia.

Nannie Springs, colored, was married to Joseph Sharpe, a Biddle Institute student, some years ago. They went to Monrovia, Liberia, to live. Sharpe became a coffee farmer and owned four or five thousand acres of land. After he had been in the country two years he grew tired and left his wife and his coffee. She heard from him for awhile, he writing from various places where he stopped in his wanderings. She remained in Liberia for a year, making her living as best she could, and having in all a pretty rough time. Finally she applied to the American consul for help, and was enabled by his help to get back to this country. She left Monrovia on Easter Sunday and arrived here on the 23rd of May. The woman says she liked the country very much after she had gotten over the African fever.—Charlotte Observer.

The Paris Temps says that at the last meeting of the French Academy of Sciences M. Mascart announced, on behalf of the Russian General Venukoff, that a magnetic pole had been discovered at Kotchetova, a village in the province of Koursk, in Russia. At a certain spot in the village the dipping needle takes a vertical position.

Editors Telegram: Under the head "A Drinking Thief" the following squib appeared in the Daily Record of June 6:

"A good brother on South Elm street, far out, laid in a few bottles of beer Saturday night, placing them in an ice box on the rear porch to keep cool. Sunday morning he heard a noise and going out found a little negro boy sucking away on the second bottle.

"Moral—When you buy beer for Sunday, hide it in a safe place."

The above item is erroneous and does me an injustice. It was evidently intended to be misleading. I make Hire's root beer and sell it. It is sold in many grocery stores and dispensed from soda fountains all over the land. I usually leave it on my rear porch for 24 hours, then carry it to my store, place it on ice, where it is for sale.

When I found the boy was stealing from my porch I informed Policemen Weatherly and Whittington and the thief was arrested. At the trial Monday afternoon the Record had an opportunity of obtaining the facts and if the news worth printing at all it was worth printing straight.

Although no name was called, the people knew of the theft, the arrest and trial, and so much has been said about the Record's false statement that I laid in a supply of beer for Sunday, the inference being that it was another kind of beer, I ask that you kindly publish this that I may be set right.

HEROIC LIFE SAVERS.

An Entire Crew, With One Exception, Lost In an Attempted Rescue.

In the series of "Heroes of Peace" there is an article in The Century on "Heroes of the Life Saving Service," by Gustav Kobbe. Mr. Kobbe says:

District Superintendent Jerome G. Kiah, with headquarters at Sand Beach, Mich., is one of the heroes of the life saving service. He holds the gold medal, the highest award the United States government can bestow for heroism in saving life. His name is associated with what was both one of the most daring attempts at rescue and one of the greatest tragedies of the service—a tragedy which wiped out an entire crew with the exception of this sole survivor.

Mr. Kiah was at the time keeper of the Point aux Barques life saving station on Lake Huron. A vessel struck too far out to be reached with the shot and line. The peril of attempting a rescue with the surfboat was only too apparent, but Keeper Kiah mustered his men and made the launch. For awhile their strength and skill enabled them to surmount or push through the tumultuous seas, but, once in the open lake beyond the shoals, where the storm was free to riot at will, the real danger began. It was a test beyond human powers. The keeper remembers that twice the boat capsized and was righted. After that he has a vague recollection of the boat capsizing and righting herself several times, and of the crew clinging to it until, one by one, the surfmen, perishing of cold, let go their hold and vanished beneath the waves. He has a dim remembrance of the boat, with himself clinging to it, grating over the shoal, and then being flung up on shore.

He was found by two men, standing, with one hand on the root of a fallen tree, steadying himself with a lath in the other and swaying as if walking, but not stirring his feet—a dazed, tottering wreck of his former self, murmuring in an incoherent way:

"Poor boys! Poor boys! They are all gone—all gone!" Temporarily shattered in mind and body, he was obliged to resign from the service. He was long in recovering, but finally it was possible practically to reward his bravery with the appointment to his present position.

THE AMERICAN STATURE.

The Loss of an Inch In Height Might Bring Serious Consequences.

In a paper read by Major Henry S. Kilbourne, surgeon United States army, before the Association of Military Surgeons of the United States, he advocated the theory that the physical power of a race or people—and consequently their capacity for work—is measured by their average stature. For every inch of height between five and six feet the extreme breathing capacity is increased eight cubic inches, the vital capacity being at its maximum at 35 years. A table of measurements of 190,621 native white Americans, accepted for the military service of the United States, shows that the number of men below 63 inches in height is but little greater than that of the class above 73 inches. The most numerous class is included between 67 and 69 inches, and this standard class would have a greater chest girth than the average. The mean height of 125 United States naval cadets above the age of 23 years was 67.80 inches. As these men are drawn from all parts and classes of the United States they represent very nearly the typical physical development of the American people of 25 years of age.

Major Kilbourne concludes that the commingling strains of Celtic, Danish, Norwegian and German blood among our people have thus far worked no deterioration of physical quality. "Not so with the swarthy, low browed and stunted people now swarming to our shores. Absorbed into the body of the people, these multitudes must irretrievably evolve an inferiority of type. To realize the result of such a contingency let it be considered that the loss of an inch in stature might bring in its train the loss of national ascendency. Let us take care, then, that the state shall suffer no injury."—Boston Transcript.

The Popular Side Comb.

The side comb still rides the top wave of popular favor notwithstanding its general adoption and consequent degeneracy into the cheapest of materials. The prevailing broad method of wearing the hair makes milady of fashion as dependent upon its good offices as her less favored sister of the shops, the only distinction between them being the difference in material. The latest combs are small, of amber or shell and decorated with finely cut steel. Sometimes the steel is but a narrow band of beads, while again it broadens out into arabesques, points or curves, or even clover leaves or flower-de-luces. Many of the combs are also set with gems, real or imitation, while others for evening wear are studded with colored stones to harmonize with the costume worn.

Making a Distinction.

Miss Cayenne had caused her partner a great deal of annoyance by forgetting what her long suit was and remaining oblivious to trump signals. He mopped the perspiration from his brow and ventured the observation, "I was under the impression that you said you were accustomed to playing whist." "Yes," she answered sweetly, "I play it. I don't work at it as some people do."—Washington Star.

General News in a Nutshell.

Electricity is now used in training wild beasts. Electric wires are rigged up in the cage between the animal and the trainer, and the latter, after entering the inclosure, turns his back upon the lion or tiger to be tamed. The beast invariably attempts to spring upon the trainer, but receives a shock from the protecting wires which is sufficient to terrorize him forever.

Though Sweden's first railroad was opened but 43 years ago, that country now has more railways, in proportion to its population, than any other country in Europe. They are owned partly by the state and partly by private corporations.

Germany's debt has increased from 16,000,000 marks in 1877 and nearly 500,000,000 marks in 1887 to 2,141,000,000 marks at the present time. The indebtedness is steadily going up, and the country will soon be able to point with pride to a national debt of the highest class, scientifically adjusted to the capacity of the people to bear it.

Was it Safe?

In view of the fact that Lieutenant Hobson and and six others Americans were prisoners at Santiago was it safe to bombard the fortifications there? It is true that Admiral Sampson was notified that Hobson was in the fort below Morro Castle and in consequence Admiral directed his men not to fire on that. But who knows that he was there? The Spaniards are liars with a capital L, and it would be just like them to put Hobson and his men where they would most likely be killed by their own people. They would rejoice with ghoulish glee over such a catastrophe.

JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA is a specific for impoverished or impotent nerves; it feeds the nervous system to high health, provides for physical and brain endurance, cheerfulness, happiness and energy.

BET THEIR HATS.

Then Have a Prolonged Tussle For Possession.

Two little negro boys met on the street near the telegraph office yesterday afternoon and one of them said to the other:

"Why didn't you go see your mother buried today?" The other answered:

"She ain't buried yit."

"Yes she is, I dun bin to de graveyard, and seen her buried."

"I bet you my hat she ain't."

"An' I bet you my hat she is."

About that time along came another little darkey who offered to hold stakes, and after getting the hats he testified that the woman had been buried. He then started to give the hats to the winner and there was a lively scrimmage and scramble, both boys getting a grip on the hats at the same time.

They held on like grim death itself, each one declaring he would never turn loose. A crowd gathered 'round them, and the last time the reporter saw them they were leaning against the wall still gripping the prize.

Shoe Leather for Dogs.

Dogs belonging to some fashionable women are now made to wear shoes. These shoes are made of chamois and have light leather soles. The idea of the inventor was to protect polished floors, but the women who have adopted the shoes for their pets say they have done so to protect, not the floors, but the tender feet of the dogs from cold, heat and rough weather generally.

Reckless Driving.

Citizens living on Ashe and Lewis streets complain of reckless driving and bicycle riding on those streets. Several people have had a narrow escape from being run over at the junction of those streets. There is considerable traffic at that point and rapid driving is a constant menace. Citizens of the locality say they will prosecute offenders if the practice is not stopped. Carriage drivers and bicyclers will do well to note.
